CONTEXT SLIDE

Hady Ceron is a sweet and kindhearted teenage girl who just started life in a public school in America after years of being homeschooled. She has straight As and an amazing track record as a student. She craves the ability to make more friends and be popular. In her new school, there is a group of popular and elitist girls known as 'The Plastics' whereby are popular but are known to cause trouble in and outside of school. Despite them being mean, people still glorify 'The Plastics'. Only a few selected people would ever be asked to join the group. Hady was asked to join 'the Plastics'. If she does she would have to be mean to everyone moving forward.
